

TEUTONS NOW
ON CZAR'S SOIL

Eastward Sweep Has Carried Them over Border North of Lemberg

BERLIN OFFICIAL
REPORTS MOVEMENT

Significant Movement Seems to Be Started by Allies in the Dardanelles

Berlin, via London, June 29, 3:51 p. m.—An official statement to-day announces that to the north of Lemberg Austro-German forces are now in Russian territory.

Only on the eastern front are events of moment occurring, as far as revealed by the news which filters through from the vast fields of operation. The Teutonic sweep eastward along that front is continuing, and the chief question which military experts are endeavoring to answer is how far it will extend before being halted by the next determined defensive stand on the part of the Russians.

With the line of the Dnieper river north of Halex evacuated, the main field of contention just at present seems to be in the north of Lemberg, where a stubborn rear guard action is being fought by the retreating Russians. The latest Austrian reports mention these operations at length and the Russian official statement admits a continued advance of the Teutons. More effective resistance apparently is being offered by Grand Duke Nicholas' forces further to the north, in the southern part of Russian Poland. In the southern part of Russian Poland, however, the Russians are reporting that they have thwarted a determined effort by the Austrians to drive through.

The only other hints of stirring activity come from the Dardanelles, where, according to Turkish reports, there has been heavy artillery firing with infantry attacks, which latter the Turks declare they have repulsed. The course of the operations is being followed closely, it being hinted from London that they may prove to be of more than ordinary importance. There is no report yet from the side of the allies.

On the Austro-Italian front the progress of the invading forces continues to be slow. The Austrians indeed report entire inactivity on the part of the Italians except for artillery firing.

There seems to be little if any change in the situation along the western front, where the deadlock continues.

FRANCE IS PLEASED

At Prospect of Early War Between Italy and Turkey.

Paris, June 29.—The announcement in the Italian press of a rupture between Italy and Turkey, with the early appearance of the Italian army and navy alongside the allies in the Dardanelles, has been received here with much satisfaction, although there has been no official announcement from Rome regarding Italy's plans.

ARRAS BOMBARDED.

But Otherwise It Has Been Quiet on the Western Front.

Paris, June 29.—The following official communication was issued by the war office last night:

"The day has been relatively calm on the whole front. There has been an artillery action to the north of Souchez, at Neuville and at Rodincourt. Arras has been bombarded by heavy guns.

"Between the Oise and Aisne the artillery duel has continued to our advantage.

"On the Argonne and on the heights of the Meuse at the Calonne trench the Germans after their check of last night have made no further attacks.

"On the morning of June 27 one of our aeroplanes succeeded in dropping with success eight shells on the Zeppelin hangars at Friedrichshafen. Motor trouble obliged him to make a landing during his return; he succeeded in reaching Swiss territory, at Rheinfelden."

BORDEN STARTS FOR ENGLAND.

Canadian Prime Minister Will First Stop at New York.

Ottawa, Ont., June 29.—Sir Robert T. Borden, prime minister of Canada, left for New York yesterday to take passage for England, where he will discuss with the British government a number of questions including war financing, the command of Canadian overseas divisions and the manufacture of shells in Canada for the allied forces.

THROWN ON ROCKS.

Levi Pratt of Wells Thrown from Team as Auto Struck Horse.

Wells, June 29.—Levi Pratt, over 40 years old, suffered a fractured collar bone, a deep scalp wound and several bruises yesterday near Lake St. Catherine when he was thrown from a wagon, his horse becoming frightened at a passing automobile. He was brought to his home here and Dr. Tenney of Granville, N. Y., was summoned. The physicians said Mr. Pratt will recover, though he was badly bruised and shaken in addition to his other injuries.

Mr. Pratt was about to dump a load of gravel in a narrow place in the highway, upon which he was at work, when an automobile, in passing the wagon, started the horse and the animal jumped, throwing the driver into some rocks.

CAN AVERT RECEIVERSHIP.

Pres. Hustis of Boston & Maine Tells New Hampshire.

Boston, June 29.—Legislation in New Hampshire in line with that of other states for the reorganization of the Boston & Maine is necessary if the railroad is to avoid a receivership, according to a statement by President James H. Hustis of the railroad yesterday.

The statement, which was given out at the conclusion of a meeting of the executive committee of the railroad said: "There is no friction between the directors of the Boston & Maine and the committee representing the leased line interests. This committee, of which Hon. Richard Olney is chairman, is fully alive to the importance of avoiding a receivership and is working to that end. They realize if receivership is to be avoided, legislation must be secured in New Hampshire and that to secure legislation in New Hampshire the leased line interests must be practically a unit requesting it."

"The statement that because of a steady improvement in net earnings reorganization is unnecessary and that there will be no need of a receivership is understood by all interests that no plan short of a permanent reorganization and one that will restore credit to the road will avail."

"It is true that net results of operation as compared with last year are continuing to show a favorable tendency. The report for the 11 months' period, published to-day in the face of a loss in operating revenue of $1,335,000 shows a shortage of only $773,000 in the amount required to pay fixed charges as against a shortage of $2,186,000 for the same period of the previous year; but regardless of this favorable showing it is apparent that fixed charges will not be earned this fiscal year, although the result would have been more favorable had not track work been started earlier this year than last."

BECKER'S APPEAL
ON THURSDAY

Counsel for Condemned Man Will Go Before Governor Whitman in Final Effort to Secure Clemency.

New York, June 29.—Counsel for Charles Becker has arranged to meet Governor Whitman in Albany Thursday to make application for a hearing on Becker's plea for clemency. Becker's execution for the murder of Herman Rosenthal has been set for the week beginning July 12.

DROWNED IN QUARRY HOLE.

Little Girl Slipped from Plank into 50 Feet of Water.

Gloucester, Mass., June 29.—Hester R. Sullivan, aged 5½, was drowned yesterday afternoon in a quarry pit near the burned polishing mill at Bay View. With two other children she was walking across a plank which spanned the pool, when she slipped. Her companions gave an alarm, and Thomas Plowden and Jean Russo ran to the scene.

The pool is about 10 feet deep and the water discolored. They secured a piece of iron, one end of which they bent into a hook, with which they brought the child to the surface. Dr. Rowley with the pulmotor from Squam endeavored to revive life, and Marshal Marchant and Inspector Sullivan with a lungmoter went to the scene in an auto. Prolonged efforts to revive her were fruitless.

Her father is John L. Sullivan, a stone-cutter, at present in Quincy. Her mother is dead. She lived with her grandmother, Hester Sullivan, for whom she was named, at 13 Kilby street.

U. S. NOTE REVEALED.

America Will Not Recede from Her Position in Frye Case.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—By an agreement with the German foreign office, the state department made public last night the text of the note sent on June 24 by the United States, asking Germany to reconsider her refusal to settle by direct diplomatic negotiations, instead of by private proceedings, the claim placed on behalf of the captain and owners of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk with her cargo of wheat by the commerce raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich. Ambassador Gerard cabled that he had delivered the note last Saturday afternoon.

The American government declares that, inasmuch as Germany has admitted liability for the sinking of the Frye, under the treaty of 1825, prize court proceedings are unnecessary and not binding upon the United States.

Aside from the question, the note brings out clearly the refusal of the United States to accept the contention that Germany has a right to stop the carrying of contraband by American ships, "by the destruction of the contraband and the ship carrying it."

While no mention of submarines was made in either the last German note or the present reply, occasion was taken to deny this right, because of a belief that admission of it now might in the future be used as a justification for submarine attacks on American ships.

GRANTED A DIVORCE.

But Dummerston Man Drops Suit for Alienation of Affection.

Newtown, June 29.—In county court here yesterday afternoon Judge Butler granted a divorce to John L. Thayer, a Dummerston hill farmer, from Josie E. Thayer on the ground of intolerable severity.

The decree disposed of four cases which had attracted much interest here. They were the petition of Mr. Thayer for divorce, the petition of Mrs. Thayer for divorce, the suit of Mrs. Thayer against her husband's brother for $2000 for work on his farm, and the $5000 suit of Mr. Thayer against a former employee, Edward Todd, alleging alienation of his wife's affections.

Mrs. Thayer did not contest her husband's petition, dropped her own petition and in consideration therefor, her husband dropped the alienation suit and took her and her brother will share their property with her.

NEVER INSANE
SAYS EXPERT

Dr. C. P. Bancroft Swears That Harry Thaw Is Sane Now

CALLS KILLING OF
WHITE AN IMPULSE

Thaw Expressed Regret and Paranoiacs Never Do That

New York, June 29.—Dr. Charles P. Bancroft, head of the New Hampshire state hospital for the insane and a member of the federal commission which examined Harry K. Thaw during his sojourn in New Hampshire, swore on the witness stand to-day that in his opinion Thaw not only is sane but always had been sane. Thaw's act in killing Stanford White, he said, appeared to us a passionate, impulsive act growing out of a condition of mind due chiefly to anger and jealousy. One reason that Dr. Bancroft believed Thaw to have been always sane was because he expressed regret for the deed. A paranoiac never expresses regret, he said.

Dr. Bancroft, testifying as an expert alienist, said that he had examined Thaw both mentally and physically over a period of three weeks and had tested his mental condition "for reaction from every possible angle."

He said that the members of the commission had gone over in detail with Thaw all the circumstances of his life and had omitted no topic which might bring to the surface the delusion from which the state alleged Thaw was suffering at the time he shot Stanford White and still is that he was "divinely appointed the protector of American girlhood."

"We found him perfectly sane and rational," said Doctor Bancroft. He said on cross examination that a true paranoiac, such as the state charges Thaw to be, might for a time submerge his delusion so as to defy the tests of the most expert alienists, but did not think that this could be done for more than two or three months. It was bound to appear after a while.

Counsel for the state cited to him a case in a New York insane asylum where a paranoiac has successfully concealed his delusion for a year and a half and gained his discharge as a sane man. On the night of his release, said the attorney, he went home and killed his sister-in-law with an axe. Doctor Bancroft said he had not heard of the case.

The witness said he had not given "a great deal of weight" to testimony in previous Thaw proceedings, to the effect that various of his relatives had the taint of insanity. He had not observed that Thaw in his childhood was given to violent outbursts, though he appeared to have been excitable in his temperament, he said.

"He seemed to be a spoiled child," said the witness. "Like some children of the rich, he was brought up without discipline, given his own way too much and lacked occupation—circumstances that lead to failure." He did not find, he said, that Thaw was morally perverted.

General Streeter, giving his opinion as a lay member of the committee, said that Thaw acted in a perfectly normal way, both while he was being examined and also at a social occasion arranged to test his "social reaction."

Thaw, he said, had expressed regret for the killing of Stanford White, and admitted he had made a mistake in idealizing Evelyn Nesbit.

LESS CLASS DISTINCTION.

Winston Churchill Tells Windsor People There Is More Democracy.

Windsor, June 29.—Winston Churchill addressed the board of trade last night on "Philosophies of the Declaration of Independence." He will give this address on July 4 at Philadelphia.

He said that there was a new interpretation to that part of the federal constitution which mentions life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The new interpretation is that every boy should be so supervised that he could gradually drift into the occupation in which he took the most interest. Mr. Churchill said that the American people did not show a disposition to want to be governed by laws, but would respond better to the desire of the public.

"There is a growing tendency," said the speaker, "to eliminate such things as class distinction. We notice this in the things which Henry Ford and other men of his type are doing for their employees. There is a period of regeneration among the great employers of labor in America. It will have a better effect than the adoption of socialism, because it is evident that Americans do not want to be socialists."

WINS SCHOLARSHIP.

K. Barrett Carmody of Fair Haven Is Successful.

Fair Haven, June 29.—K. Barrett Carmody, son of Daniel J. Carmody, postmaster of this village, has won the Knights of Columbus scholarship for the Catholic University of America at Washington, D. C. There were 20 scholars awarded this year on the Knights of Columbus foundation. Competition for these is open to any man who has attained the A. B. or B. S. degree. About 150 college graduates from all over the country entered the competitive examinations.

Mr. Carmody was graduated from St. Michael's college in Windsor June 18 of the present year and considering the large field from which he won, he and the college from which he graduated are receiving numerous congratulatory messages.

30 YEARS IN PRISON.

For Fleecing Men by Means of Dummy Poolroom.

New York, June 29.—Frederick Goodell, who entered a plea of guilty last week to a charge of fleecing William F. Davis, a hotelkeeper of Gloucester, N. J., out of $2000 by means of a dummy poolroom and a wire tapping scheme, was yesterday sentenced to from a year and four months to 10 years in Sing Sing prison.

BEING TRIED FOR MURDER.

George Warner Killed His Wife's Parents in Town of Andover.

Woodstock, June 29.—George Warner, who on November 4, 1914, shot and killed his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiggins, at Simonsville, in the town of Andover, was placed on trial for murder yesterday in Windsor county court. Judge Frank L. Fish of Vergennes is presiding. Attorney F. G. Bicknell of Chester is counsel for Warner. Attorney General Herbert G. Barber of Brattleboro is assisting State's Attorney Bert E. Cole in the prosecution.

Soon after his arrest, Warner was taken to the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury for observation as to his sanity. When he was arraigned immediately following the double murder, to which he confessed, Warner entered a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity." He changed his plea yesterday afternoon to "not guilty."

Warner, on the day of the murders, had an argument with his wife with whom he was not living, and following the dispute went to the home of her parents, where he killed her mother by shooting the aged woman in the house.

Having secreted the body in an outbuilding, Warner lay in wait for Mr. Wiggins and shot him as he was preparing to alight from a wagon after having driven into the door yard.

The murderer disappeared and a posse was organized which searched the country for two days. Warner was finally found hungry and suffering from exposure by a half-brother.

He did not deny the deed and shortly after being taken into custody confessed, saying that he was glad he had killed his wife's mother.

Though Warner's counsel has not intimated what the line of defense will be it is generally believed that the result of the observation of the respondent by the alienists at Waterbury will not strengthen the insanity claim.

BOY WAS KILLED
CLEANING A RIFLE

Neither Lyle Chamberlain, the Victim, Nor His Brother, Lee, Knew That the Weapon Was Loaded.

North Troy, June 29.—Lee, the 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chamberlain of Jay, shot and almost instantly killed his 12-year-old brother, Lyle, yesterday, the accident being due to the fact that the boys did not know a rifle which they were cleaning was loaded. The ball entered the head of the boy and he died almost immediately, before Dr. W. A. Young of Westfield could be of any assistance.

SENIORS HAD PERFECT WEATHER.

University of Vermont Class Day Was Aided by Weather.

Burlington, June 29.—Class day, the second of the 11th commencement of the University of Vermont, was marked by perfect weather. The graduating class held the annual class walk in the morning, visiting the home of President Guy Potter Benson and the members of the faculties. The class reunions followed in the recitation rooms at which the professors received many members of the alumni.

The class day exercises were held on the college green yesterday afternoon, President Harold Mayford of Springfield, Mass., presiding. The history was read by Jason S. Hunt of Johnson and the essay by Miss Gladys Gleason of Burlington. The Boulder oration was given by Leon W. Dean of Bristol and the campus oration by Merle H. Davis of Johnson. Miss Mary Lavelle of Burlington read the class poem written by her. The pipe oration was by Wilbur Y. Handy of Burlington, addresses to undergraduates by Earl S. Hayden of St. Albans and ivy oration by Merrill D. Powers of Athens.

The exercises closed with the planting of the class ivy at the Billings library. Fraternity reunions this evening and the soon promenade closed the day.

R. A. STEWART TRUSTEE.

Boston Man Elected by University of Vermont.

Burlington, June 29.—George W. Benedict, 33, of Providence, R. I., was elected president of the alumni association of the University of Vermont to-day. Levi P. Smith, 57, of Burlington is secretary; Ralph K. Stewart, 33, of Boston is vice-president. Mr. Stewart also was elected a trustee of the university on the part of the alumni.

BRIDE A SUICIDE.

Everett, Mass., Woman Used Gas—Was Found by Her Husband.

Everett, Mass., June 29.—Mrs. Dora Bravaman, aged 22, a bride of two months, committed suicide yesterday with gas in her home, 130 Broadway, South Everett.

She was found lying on the bed by her husband, Max Bravaman, about 6:45 last evening on his return from work. An effort was made to revive her by means of a pulmotor by the physicians and police, but it was too late.

Worry over the fact that her brother is suffering from tuberculosis at a sanatorium in North Reading and frequent letters from her mother in Russia appealing for money to keep her from starving is said to have affected Mrs. Bravaman's mind. She took a niece, the daughter of her brother, from her home to that of a neighbor yesterday morning to be cared for, saying she was going to Boston to see a dentist.

The windows and door of her bedroom were tightly closed and the curtains stuffed with paper. The Bravamans had a pleasant home and were apparently a happy couple.

FAIR FOURTH FORECASTED.

For All Parts of the Country Except Oregon.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—Fair weather for the Fourth of July holiday next Monday was promised to-day by the weather bureau for every section of the country except Oregon, where light showers are probable.

VIGOROUS POLICY IS SET ON FOOT

Angeles Goes to Washington to Deny He Was in Any Huerta Plot

Washington, D. C., June 29.—In line with a policy to prevent, if possible, further revolutionary movements in Mexico, or at least the setting on foot of any such expeditions on American soil, the American government purposes to prosecute vigorously violations of neutrality, regardless of the prominence of individuals or affiliations.

The possibility that others may be identified with the so-called Huerta conspiracy intensified interest to-day in the investigation of the situation by agents of the department of justice.

Gen. Felipe Angeles, Villa's chief lieutenant, came here to-day from Boston to deny in person that he was connected in any way with a coup to re-establish a Huerta regime in Mexico.

WOULD NOT PLEAD.

So Werner Horn Had Plea of Not Guilty Put Opposite His Name.

Boston, June 29.—Werner Horn, the German army officer who tried to blow up the international bridge at Vancouver, B. C., last February yesterday refused to plead to three federal indictments charging illegal transportation of dynamite from New York to Maine. Pleas of not guilty were entered by direction of the court.

The case came up on the motion of United States District Attorney Anderson that it be set for trial at once. Former Congressman Joseph F. O'Connell, counsel for the prisoner, objected, on the ground that he wished to enter an appeal from the federal district court decision dismissing Horn's habeas corpus petition.

Horn, through an interpreter, said he preferred to wait in jail all summer rather than go to trial without opportunity to obtain a decision from the appellate court on the district court decision. Judge Morton then continued the case until September.

FORMER MONTEPILIER CUTTER.

Charles Fred O'Connor Died Last Evening—Funeral Thursday.

Charles Fred O'Connor, a former Montpelier granite cutter, died at Waterbury last evening of hardening of the arteries, having been in ill health for several years. The body was brought this morning to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Connor, who reside at 24 Ridge street in Montpelier, and the funeral will be held from St. Augustine's church in that city Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, with burial in the Catholic cemetery there.

Mr. O'Connor was born in Poultry June 13, 1869, and he went to Montpelier with his parents when he was young. He was last employed as a granite cutter in Montpelier at the Fraser plant. He was a member of the Eagles, the G. C. I. A., the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Order of Foresters. Besides his parents, he leaves three sisters, Mrs. John Collins and Agnes and Mabel O'Connor, all of Montpelier, and two brothers, John and George O'Connor.

HER BROTHER WAS KILLED.

Mrs. Henry Collings of Barre Called to Mourn Death of Canadian Soldier.

Some of the fiercest fighting which decimated Canadian regiments along the battle front in France last week resulted in the death of Hugh Gowie, a brother of Mrs. Henry Collings of Academy street, according to a dispatch which she received yesterday. Late last week she was advised that her brother had been seriously wounded while fighting with the Canadian contingent, although only a week before a letter from Mr. Gowie had assured her of his continued good health. Just where he was engaged when he was wounded is not known, as the military authorities are constantly guarding against any dissemination of news that would tend to reveal the location of the armies. Mr. Gowie was 24 years old and a resident of Walkersville, Ont., when the war broke out last August. He was one of the first to volunteer and was a member of the first Canadian overseas expedition. He belonged to the first battalion of Canadian infantry.

TO DODGE TRUCK, HIT HYDRANT.

East Calais Motorist Was Immediately Deluged by Geyser.

A confusion of cars, in which figured a 1915 Buick, owned and operated by Guy Bancroft, an East Calais buttermaker, and the F. D. Ladd Co.'s auto delivery truck with Clyde Tracy at the wheel, caused an auto accident last night that had for its consequences one of the most spectacular hydraulic effects ever witnessed in Barre. Mr. Bancroft was accompanied by his wife, and neither suffered anything more serious than a thorough drenching. Tons and tons of water cascading down into the car probably did not tend to boost its intrinsic worth, but the actual damage to the vital parts was trivial, considering the fact that it battered its way through a hydrant and a perpendicular gasoline pump, both of which were anchored near the edge of the sidewalk.

Occurring as it did in the rush hour of suppertime, the accident and the water performance that followed formed a cynosure for many eyes. That Mr. Bancroft's car, in scaling the street curb near the C. W. Averill block, should have dislodged a hydrant in such a sure and swift manner as to force therefrom a jet of water 30 feet high seemed bizarre enough, indeed, but there was to be an anti-climax to the antics of the Buick, for the machine, in completing its wild career, swept from its moorings a newly installed gasoline pump from the sidewalk border and was threateningly headed for a nearby telephone pole when it stopped.

In the instant that the car howled over the hydrant chamber, the valve was released, and a column of water six inches through at the barrel and anywhere from a foot to 18 inches in diameter as it neared the point of spraying some 30 feet in the air shot forth continuously for upward of 15 minutes. As the car ploughed its way into the gasoline pump, which ambitiously towered high enough over the walk so that the kids couldn't pluck from its miniature tower an electric light globe, it came to a halt. Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft beat a hasty retreat for cover, but not before the jet of water had deluged them and their belongings. Someone endeavored to get in touch with the water department, and after a brief search, Superintendent Frank O. Lee and his assistant, A. B. Gonyo, went into the inundated area and shut off the water. By that time North Main street on both sides had been converted into a torrent, but the intakes along the gutter furnished a sufficient outlet for the water, and none of the basements contiguous to the scene were flooded.

In the aftermath of the cascading, men issued forth to appraise the damage. A sorry spectacle was the front of the Buick, with one battered headlight, a bent fender and a jammed radiator, but the car was able to proceed under its own power to a garage. The gasoline pump, a device installed by C. W. Averill & Co. only a few days since, was very much the worse for the accident. Likewise the hydrant, although both dispensers can be restored. The happy report cannot be made concerning the bundle of millinery which constituted the bulk of the Buick's cargo. After calling on her sister, who is in the millinery business here, Mrs. Bancroft had decided to take along a carton of hats for the Calais trade. When the geyser began to get in its deadly work, the hats were on the rear seat of the car and directly under the jet.

It must be admitted that stories of how the accident came about seem to differ widely. Mrs. Bancroft says her husband was driving slowly down the street on the right side, when the approach of a delivery truck was suddenly noted. Apparently the truck driver was trying to cut in ahead of the Buick. Mrs. Bancroft says, and to forfend an accident her husband made for the extreme right. In so doing he mounted the curb, although in Mrs. Bancroft's opinion circumstances made such a move imperative. What happened afterward was hard to recall. Mr. Tracy, however, states that he was ahead of the Buick and was about to turn into the driveway between Averill's and the old city building when, as he says, entirely unheralded by the toot of a horn, the car came out of the rear to his right. He thought there was room enough for the car to pass, but to guard against a side-swiping, as he goes on to explain, he applied his brake and brought his car to a standstill. People who claim to have witnessed the accident from beginning to end say that both cars were on the right side of the street and that it looked as though the truck driver was intending to guide his car into the driveway. Most of those who felt qualified to say anything about the occurrence were loath to fix the responsibility on either driver.

MRS. EMMA C. BECKLEY

Died at Her Home on Orange Street After Long Illness.

Mrs. Emma C. Beckley, widow of John L. Beckley, who died four years ago, passed away at her home, 19 Orange street, at 4:30 this morning after a long period of ill health. She was 64 years of age and had always lived in Barre, where she was born, with the exception of a short time spent in Plainfield. A large circle of friends will mourn the loss of Mrs. Beckley, whom to know was to love.

She leaves one sister, Mrs. F. F. Batchelder of Barre; two children, Alice V. Beckley of Barre and Frank E. Beckley of New York; and two grandchildren, Frank E. Beckley, Jr., and John L. Beckley of New York.

The funeral will be held from her late home Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. E. F. Novell, pastor of the Methodist M. E. church of which she was a member, being the officiating clergyman.

ANGEL'S LEAVES BOSTON.

It Is Believed There that He Has Gone to Washington.

Boston, June 29.—Gen. Felipe Angeles, who came to the United States a week ago on a mission which he said was entrusted to him by Gen. Villa, last night left the city, where he had been visiting his family. Although his destination was not announced, it was believed that he has gone to Washington. General Angeles' departure followed a long distance telephone call from headquarters of Villa supporters in the capital.

FATIGUED BY LONG TOUR

President Wilson Did Not Leave Summer Home This Morning

VISITED RUTLAND
LATE YESTERDAY

With His Daughter and His Cousin He Covered 110 Miles by Auto

Cornish, N. H., June 29.—Wearied by his long automobile ride of yesterday, President Wilson did not leave his summer home this morning, but remained in his study, attending to the mail and official documents, which had been forwarded from Washington.

Secretary Lansing was expected in Amherst, Mass., only a few hours' ride from here to-day, and it was thought that he might come over to confer with the president, although it was said at the executive office that no meeting had been planned.

President Wilson's tour late yesterday took him to Rutland, Vt., covering a distance of 110 miles. He was accompanied by Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, his daughter, and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, his cousin. He was away from his home here six hours. The president was thoroughly tired out by the long ride and spent most of the evening at Harlakenden house, with members of his party, playing pool and reading and talking.

WILSON IN RUTLAND.

Made Unexpected Visit Late Yesterday and Took Tea There.

Rutland, June 29.—President Wilson "looped the loop" through Rutland last evening, passing through the city about 5 o'clock from Windsor and Woodstock and returning a little after 6, en route to his summer home in Cornish, N. H. He stopped at the Otter Creek tea room on the Creek road, kept by Mrs. G. A. Brigham, and took tea. He and his party were at the tea room about 45 minutes. The president apparently shook off the newspaper men at Woodstock and came directly over the mountain through Bridgewater and Sherburne, inasmuch as there were rumors that he was to meet Col. E. M. House, his European envoy, at Manchester, the representatives began burning up the wires about 6:30 and were relieved to find that the trip was merely a pleasure jaunt through the Ottaquechee and Otter creek valleys.

There were two cars, one containing the president and his party, the other carrying three secret service men. The stop in this city was entirely unexpected, although it is apparent that the tea room was in view as a desirable stopping place for an evening meal. The quickly assembled meal and the beautiful scenery of the Windsor-Rutland trip were alike praised by the party of distinguished visitors.

The stop for supper was made about 3:15 in the afternoon, and the president himself inscribed upon the register at Mrs. Brigham's, in the unmistakable copperplate hand, "Woodrow Wilson and party."
